GOOD TO KNOW

the minimum spend, explained

At Browne St Events, our minimum spend for evening functions is based on the combined guest spend on food and alcohol. It is not an additional fee imposed by the venue — it simply represents the collective amount you and your guests are expected to spend on food and beverages throughout the event. This gives you more control over the overall cost, as it is tied directly to what's consumed on the night.

We've designed our menus and beverage options to suit a wide range of preferences and budgets, and our experienced staff are happy to help you select the right mix to comfortably meet the minimum spend — without any hassle. Our team will work closely with you to make planning as smooth as possible. Should you have any questions, our Events Manager is always happy to help.
